PROFILE

Software Development graduate (DAM, the Spanish higher vocational degree in multi-platform application development). My final-year project didn't stay in the classroom: it's an appointment management app for a real internist in Palma, with a backend in Java 21 and Spring Boot 3.5 on PostgreSQL, JWT authentication and versioned Flyway migrations. The detail that taught me the most was preventing two patients from booking the same slot, solved with pessimistic database locking and validated with a real concurrency test.

Before that, a 400-hour internship at Marlink Group: API testing, end-to-end validation and Python automation in a SAFe environment. I come from administration, tourism and HR, and that background gave me structured thinking and attention to detail. Available to start immediately.
